IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

President and Mme. Amador White House Guests.

MEET SELECT FEW AT DINNER

First Executive Function of its Kind of the Present Season—Miss Eleanor Ridgely, Daughter of the Comptroller, Makes Her Maiden Bow to Society at McKinley Tea.

The White House was the scene of the first large dinner party of the season last evening, the President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertaining complimentary to the President of Panama and Mme. Amador. Covers were laid for thirty-two. Clusters of pink bonnias and white carnations were used in table decoration, and the beautiful gold service was used. Mrs. Roosevelt wore an exceedingly becoming gown of dark blue brocade.

Invited to meet the guests of honor were Mme. Amador de Ehrman, the Secretary of State and Mrs. Root, the Acting Secretary of War and Mrs. Oliver, the charge d'affaires of Panama, Mr. C. C. Arosemena, Representative James A. Tawney, Representative George W. Taylor, Representative and Mrs. Longworth, Representative William B. McKinley, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Bacon, Rear Admiral Evans, Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Bell, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Howze, Maj. Dickman, Mr. and Mrs. Pinchot, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Hobson, Miss Tuckerman, Miss Emmet, Commander and Mrs. Sims.

At 10 o'clock a reception was held, a large number of diplomats and their wives being present.

The home of the Comptroller of the Currency and Mrs. William Barrett Ridgely was the scene yesterday afternoon of an enjoyable tea, the occasion being the presentation to society of Miss Eleanor Cullum Ridgely. In the profusion of flowers, chrysanthemums, in white and yellow, with La France roses, prevailed.

Mrs. Ridgely stood just within the entrance of the first of the drawing-rooms to welcome the guests, handsomely gowned in a heavy cluny lace robe, the mandarin sleeves and the V neck and corsage of which were edged with bands of black velvet. Beside her stood the debutante, her fresh young beauty set off by her gown of Liberty satin and flit lace, embroidered with white silk, wide flounces of the lace forming the skirt and embellishing the bodice. A huge cluster of American Beauty roses rested in her arms.

Presiding at the prettily appointed table with its service of repousse silver, was the Baroness Moncheur, wife of the Belgian Minister, handsome in a gown of pastel rose satin cloth, trimmed with cream lace, and a large black Gainsborough hat set off by one large American Beauty rose.

Her vis-a-vis, who served frappe, was Mrs. Edward T. Dyer, of New York, who has joined the New York colony here and taken a house for the season in Massachusetts avenue. She was becomingly gowned in pale blue broadcloth with embellishments of lace and a large black picture hat.

A bevy of girls assisted in the courtesies of the afternoon. They were the Misses Carol Newberry, Henrietta Fitch, Yulee Noble, Vera Downing, Mary Scott, Francesca Butler, and Gladys Butler, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Butler, who have just returned from a residence, abroad, and will be introduced this season.

Mrs. Shelby Cullum, grandmother of the debutante, was also present, and Mrs. Richard Harlow, gowned in pale blue cloth and embroidered chiton, presided over the punch bowl.

Among those present were Mrs. Metcalf, wife of the Secretary of the Navy; Mrs. Cortisyon, wife of the Secretary of Commerce and Labor; Mrs. Newberry, the Danish Minister, Mr. Brun; the Chinese charge, Mr. Chow Tszchi; Mme. Pastor, wife of the Spanish charge; Mrs. Murray Cobb, Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. William Corcoran Hill, and Mrs. Loch.

Mr. Logan Tucker, son of Col. and Mrs. W. F. Tucker, and grandson of Mrs. John A. Logan, and Mrs. Mary Broome, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Barbour, of Rhode Island avenue, will be married Tuesday afternoon, the wedding will take place at the Metropolitan Church at 3 o'clock. The engagement was announced some weeks ago.

The Italian Ambassador and Baroness Mayor des Planches, who landed from Italy in New York Thursday, will come to Washington to-day.

Many persons took advantage of the holiday weather and the holiday spirit to gather at the Evening races Thanksgiving Day, and a particularly large contingent of diplomats was present, including the Counselor of the French Embassy and Mme. and Mlle. des Portes, the Naval Attaché and Mme. de Blaupre, of the same embassy; Baron Ambrosio, Counselor of the Austro-Hungarian Embassy; Mrs. Stephen B. Elkins and Miss Elkins, and their guest, Mrs. George Law, of New York; Mrs. William Slater, Miss Isabelle May; Miss Squires, daughter of the Minister to Panama; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Legare, and Prince zu Lynar, of the German Embassy.

The Spanish Charge d'Affaires and Mme. Pastor entertained at dinner last night at their home in Q street. Among their guests were the newly arrived Chilean Minister and Mrs. Cruz Diaz, the Peruvian Minister and Mme. Pardo, the first secretary of the Chilean Legation, Mr. Yocham, and Signor Mon-

POPULAR IN ARMY SOCIAL CIRCLES.

MRS. J. FRANKLIN BELL, Wife of Gen. Franklin Bell, the Chief of Staff, United States Army.

tagna, first secretary of the Italian Embassy, who has just returned from New York.

From the social viewpoint, to-day's Philadelphia South street gathering, Philadelphia, about noon. They will lunch on their car, and stroll up to Franklin Field just in time for the start of the game. Admiral Dewey will also occupy a box on the Navy side, and the "little midies" hope the hero of Manila Bay will prove a mascot for them. Admiral Willard H. Brownson, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation; Admiral Robley D. Evans, Admiral Goodrich, Admiral Pendleton, commander of the League Island Navy Yard, and Commander U. S. Benson will likewise have compartments on the Annapolis side.

Gov. Warfield, of Maryland, is the only civilian who will have a box on the Navy side. The members of his family and several officers of his staff will make up the governor's party.

Many people prominent in the financial and social worlds will occupy boxes on the Army side. Gov. Hughes, of New York; Charles M. Schwab and W. E. Corey, the steel magnates; Senator Du Pont, of Delaware, and his brother, T. C. Du Pont, president of the big powder company; James McCrea, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad; Theodore Voorhes, vice president of the Reading; E. V. Morgan, Minister to Cuba; Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts; Senator Dick of Ohio; Senator Cullum, of Illinois; Congressman Bingham, and others.

The Assistant Secretary of War and his daughters, the Misses Elizabeth and Marion Oliver, the former having just returned from a visit in New York, also will attend. The Assistant Secretary of the Treasury and Mrs. Beekman Winthrop, and Mr. Francis Stevens, fiance of Miss Oliver, will be of the Oliver party.

The Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Metcalf will take a party with them, and Rear Admiral Chester will have as his guests the Misses Fitch, daughters of the chief engineer of the navy. Gen. and Mrs. Arthur Murray have a number of friends going with them, and Miss Louise Foraker will be in a party of young people. Parties from the barracks and the navy yard will also swell the number of rooters for the Capital.

Mrs. Edson Bradley, of New York, who came over for the Grant-Rock wedding, has returned to her home in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Foster are entertaining a number of students from Princeton and girls from Bryn Mawr, for whom she will give a tea this afternoon.

Mr. Ritchie Simpkins, of Boston, is spending a few days in Washington. He will return after the New Year to open his house here for the remainder of the season.

Mr. George Howard will sail on the Mauretania to-day for England, where he has been summoned because of the illness of his mother, Lady Howard, wife of Sir Henry Howard, of The Hague, Holland.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Norman have returned to the city for the winter and have opened their house, in Massachusetts avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore and family are spending a few weeks at Leesburg, Va., where Mr. Moore has leased a place for the hunting season.

Mr. L. L. Nicholson, Jr., has returned to Washington from a hunting trip on the yacht Glavotta, with Mr. John R. Dos Passos.

Mrs. Trueman H. Newberry, wife of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and Miss Newberry, who were in New York for the Thanksgiving holiday, with Barnes and Phelps, the Newberry twins, have returned to Washington.

Miss Lucinda Carpenter Pennebaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Pennebaker, entertained at luncheon yesterday complimentary to her cousin, Miss Emily Elliott, of Kentucky. Table appointments were in yellow, chrysanthemums and yellow capped tapers combining in making a most effective decoration. The guests were Miss McGowan, Miss Waller, and Miss Wickliffe McAtee, all of Kentucky; Miss Elizabeth Lacy, Miss Margery Stewart, Miss Helen Nicholson, Miss Stella Carnd, Miss Nina Mackall, Miss Evelyn Carpenter, Mrs. Stephen Duncan Bradley, and Miss Anna Elliott Pennebaker.

Miss Rebecca Wellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wellman, is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her cousin, Miss Katherine Brooks. Mrs. Wellman and the other members of the family are now at Norristown, Pa., but will come to Washington the first of the week to open their house here for the winter.

Mrs. Gibson Falmestock, who has recently been visiting her mother, Mrs. Snowden Andrews, of Baltimore, has returned to her home in this city.

Mrs. S. S. Heald and her daughters, Misses Adelaide and Mary Heald, with a party of friends will attend the Army and Navy football game at Philadelphia to-day.

Miss Alma Herrie and Mr. Alfred H. Keim were quietly married Thanksgiving evening at the home of the bride's mother by Rev. John Compton Ball. The bride wore a gown of white messaline and duchesse lace, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Herrie, who wore an attractive gown of pale green silk.

Mr. Ralph A. Quick, nephew of the bridegroom, acted as best man. Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered by Miss Emma Guschowsky. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Keim left for New York en route to Cuba and Mexico. They will be at home after February 1, at 14 Twelfth street northeast.

At her "Current topics talks" on Monday next at Scottish Rite Hall, 106 G street, Miss Janet Richards will include among the topics under discussion an account of the English "suffragettes," as given by Mrs. Cobden-Sanderson, of London, and heard by Miss Richards last week in Philadelphia. Mrs. Sanderson is the daughter of the noted English statesman, Richard Cobden, of free trade and corn laws fame, and was imprisoned for several weeks last fall in an English jail because of her activity in the cause of the English suffragettes.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carter Bridge, will sail from New York to-day for Europe and make a tour of the continent.

Miss Moor, of the Sunshine Club, entertained a few ladies of the club at her home, at S street northwest, last Wednesday. The mantels were hung with ivy and decorated with yellow chrysanthemums. The soloists of the evening were Miss Wild, Mrs. Reiss, Miss Jackson, and Miss Bayley. Among those who enjoyed Miss Moor's hospitality were Miss Eva Jackson, president of the club; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Brien, Mrs. Reiss, Miss Mary Wild, Miss Clara Phelps, Miss Mary O'Brien, Mrs. Edwin Bayley, Miss Charlotte Bayley, Miss Katharine O'Brien, Mr. Willier, and Mr. Gonio.

Funeral of Edwin A. McIntire.
About thirty members of B. B. French Lodge, F. and A. M., participated in the Masonic rites yesterday afternoon at Rock Creek Cemetery over the remains of Edwin A. McIntire, who died Tuesday night at the residence 224 C street northwest. Rev. Ross Fishburn, pastor of Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, conducted the services, which were held at the home of the deceased at 3 o'clock. Messrs. H. M. Gilman, H. Cobough, C. Parker, W. H. Lemon, W. Barnum, and G. Johnson acted as pallbearers.
